SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

Today's gospel reading is the beginning of what is often called the Sermon on the Plain. We find a parallel to this passage in Matthew 5:1-7,11 that is often called the Sermon on the Mount. As these titles suggest, there are differences and similarities between these gospel readings.

When spoken from the mountaintop in Matthew's Gospel, we can't miss the impression that Jesus is speaking with the authority and voice of God. The mountaintop is a symbol of closeness to God. Those who ascend the mountain see God and speak for God; recall the story of Moses and the Ten Commandments. As Luke introduces the location of Jesus' teaching, Jesus teaches on level ground, alongside the disciples and the crowd. Luke presents Jesus' authority in a different light. He is God among us.

The form of the Beatitudes found in Luke's and Matthew's Gospel is not unique to Jesus. Beatitudes are found in the Old Testament, such as in the Psalms and in Wisdom literature. They are a way to teach about who will find favor with God. The word blessed in this context might be translated as "happy," "fortunate," or "favored."

As we listen to this Gospel, the Beatitudes jar our sensibilities. Those who are poor, hungry, weeping, or persecuted are called blessed. This is, indeed, a Gospel of reversals. Those often thought to have been forgotten by God are called blessed. In the list of "woes," those whom we might ordinarily describe as blessed by God are warned about their peril. Riches, possessions, laughter, reputation . . . these are not things that we can depend upon as sources of eternal happiness. They not only fail to deliver on their promise; our misplaced trust in them will lead to our demise. The ultimate peril is in misidentifying the source of our eternal happiness.

The Beatitudes are often described as a framework for Christian living. Our vocation as Christians is not to be first in this world, but rather to be first in the eyes of God. We are challenged to examine our present situation in the context of our ultimate horizon, the Kingdom of God.

The Synod: Our Parish Gathering

As noted before, the Church is engaged in a process of consultation of the faithful called a Synod. Our parish will hold an evening of prayer and discussion on February 16 at 7:00 p.m. in St. Bernardine Hall. As preparation, here are some questions for consideration:

1. Companions on the Journey: How are we called to grow as companions, who may be left out?
2. Listening: How is God speaking to us?
3. Speaking Out: What helps us or hinders us to speak out in Church or society?
4. Celebration: How does the Liturgy help our life and our mission?
5. Shared Responsibility for Mission: What hinders the baptized from being active in the Church's mission?
6. Dialogue in Church & Society: How do we as a parish community enter into conversation?
7. Ecumenism: How do we journey together with our Christians and religious communities.
8. Authority & Participation: How do we work together to identify and meet our challenges?
9. Discerning & Deciding: How does our community use consultation in decision making process?
10. Forming Ourselves in Synodality: How do we form people to journey together towards the Kingdom?

For persons who may not be able to join the parish evening of reflection you can provide your thoughts directly to the Diocese at www.hbgdiocese.org/synod.
