CONFESSIONS

"God greatly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bend, of those in heaven and on earth and under the earth, and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father." (Philippians 2: 9 - 11)

OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, KING OF THE UNIVERSE

Today as a Church, we conclude our liturgical year and celebrate the Feast of Christ the King. The Gospel we proclaim shows the great mystery of our faith: In the moment of his crucifixion, Jesus is shown to be King and Savior of all.

Luke's Gospel has been loaded with surprises: the poor are rich, sinners find salvation, the Kingdom of God is found in our midst. Here we see the greatest surprise of all. We are confronted with the crucified Jesus, whom faith tells us is King and Savior of all. The irony is that the inscription placed on the cross, perhaps in mockery, contains the profoundest of truth. As the leaders jeer, the thief crucified by his side recognizes Jesus as Messiah and King, and finds salvation.

Jesus is King, but not the kind of king we might have imagined or expected. His kingship was hidden from many of his contemporaries, but those who had the eyes of faith were able to see. As modern disciples of Jesus, we, too, struggle at times to recognize Jesus as King. Today's Gospel invites us to make our own judgment. With eyes of faith, we, too, recognize that Jesus, the crucified One, is indeed King and Savior of all.

WHAT IS TRUTH?

In the Passion account of St. John there is a conversation between Jesus and Pilate. Jesus states under questioning that "This is why I was born and for this I came into the world, to testify to the truth." Pilate's response: "What is truth?". In light of our current culture it is a valid question. There are two radically different understandings of the word truth. For much of the contemporary culture truth is what I want a thing to be. In philosophy we would call that subjectivism. I, as the subject or person, determine what is true for me whereas it may be different for you as a different subject. I would suggest that for most of western culture truth was defined in a very different way, namely, truth is the conformity of the mind with reality. A position articulated by St. Thomas Aquinas and others before him. Reality is understood as an objective fact we seek to understand, not something open to various personal interpretations.

All modern science is based on this philosophical understanding. Reality is what we study, analyze, describe and base our judgements on. A certain piece of steel, of a particular composition and structure will be able to bear a certain weight. If not, our bridges would collapse and nothing in our technology would function. Reality exists all on its own and it is not contingent on what I may think (actually it is contingent on what God thinks). The steel beam holds not because I think it will hold or want it to hold, but because it does, that is its nature. It is true for the steel beam and for all realities, including biology. Sadly, because some areas of life have become politicized, we are told that what we see before us is not real or true. We are told we must play along with the charade or risk losing our career or job. Lives of young people are being grossly distorted as adults let them play out a fantasy, sometimes even helping to create the fantasy. Children are being mutilated (healthy organs removed or medically suppressed) for this fantasy. In some places parents are purposely kept in the dark by school personnel. If indeed a person suffers from a serious disconnect between what they are biologically and their desire to be something different they deserve our support and assistance. Pretending they are different does not help address the underlying problem. What has become of truth? I always thought that the truth will set us free.
